Democratic Majorities Which Enacted New Deal Indicated in Vote

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Democratic majorities in both houses of Congress, as indicated by the vote in the election today, will be able to continue the new deal legislation during the next session.

House return was still slow, but the Democrats had elected 101 members of the new congress.

Most of the contests already settled in both house and senate were in the Democratic solid south.

Only a few seats in the house had been gained by either side.

Democrats had taken over 100 seats in the house.

Republicans had only gained from the Democrats the two seats they won in Maine in September.

Most of the major senate contests were still inconclusive.

Senator Borah of Idaho dean of the senate had a comfortable lead over his Democratic opponent Governor Ben Ross.

Two senate veterans were falling they were Hastings Delaware Republican and Metcalf Rhode Island Republican.

Republican of South Dakota also was in a tight race.

In one of the most interesting senate battles Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. was leading Governor James M. Coughlin of Massachusetts.

The full membership of the house was a stake in this year's election.

House members compared with 100 Republicans to win out.

Democrats now have 308 house members compared with 100 Republicans.

Some predicted such an outcome.

Carrying Marion Co

With 118 precinct out of 293 reported, the margin was 1181 for Fletcher and 1151 for Mouser.

Fletcher was leading in all counties in the district with the exception of Morrow and Hardin counties.

Where with 2 precincts out of 14 reporting the vote was tied at 123.

Mouser was leading by 90 votes in Morrow county with 17 out of 28 precincts in.

Three Crawford county precincts gave Fletcher a lead of 75 votes.

Twenty-one out of 73 Lincoln county precincts gave Fletcher a lead of 160.

Wyandot county gave Fletcher a lead of 508 with 18 out of 40 precincts reporting.

Fletcher also was building up a gradual lead in Marion county.

He held a lead of 72 with 35 out of 57 precincts reporting.

It appeared that he would carry the county as he was building up his majority in both city and rural precincts.

The vote by counties follows:

Marion 75 6189 57.1

Hardin 27 4233 44.1

Crawford 3 354 30.0

Randolph 21 2351 23.00

Wyandot 19 2182 16.74

Morrow 15 2201 9.91

Democrats and Republicans Divide Offices in County

County offices apparently were being divided fairly evenly between Democrats and Republicans.

Early this morning when returns had been received from 40 of the county's 57 voting places.

Democrats were in the lead in the contests for county commissioners.

Those whose election appeared almost certain included county Treasurer Homer D. Cole.

Democrat who was 1893 votes ahead of W. Dexter Hazen.

Independent who had 188 votes and Sheriff Miller who had 720 votes.

A margin of 744 over his Democratic opponent J. W. Har-

Recorder Naher polled 713 votes in 40 precincts.

A 1261 edge over Elmer Shaw, his Republican opponent.

Prosecutor Michel had built up an 848-vote lead over his Democratic opponent Paul Jones.

President Leads in 45 of 48 States with Possible Victory in 46th.

The people have returned the new deal to office for four years more by an electoral plurality which may be the greatest in American history.

Riding a great flood tide of ballots, Franklin D. Roosevelt was leading for reelection early today in 45 of the 48 states.

A possibility remained that he might capture the forty-sixth.

The Republican opponent Gov. Alf M. Landon conceded defeat and congratulated the victor in a message declaring "every American will accept the verdict and work for the common cause of the good of our country."

As the governor's message flicked over the wires, outward his electoral fortunes were at the lowest ebb.

He had less than Hoover had in 1932—just comfortable leads in the states of Maine and Vermont and a more precarious margin in New Hampshire.

At that moment of the indicated state totals held, Roosevelt would have 519 of the 531 electoral votes.

Landon 17.

Before midnight struck the President at Hyde Park said he foresaw possibly "one of the biggest sweeps" in history.

Trend General Throughout Country

In industrial farming and mining sections the still incomplete summaries told the same story for Roosevelt.

His greatest plannings were in the cities, yet through many country sections also he rolled up an advantage over his Republican opponent.

Last west and south all did their part to swell the mounting total of his electoral margin.

In the congressional elections too the Democrats were having all the best of it while gubernatorial returns from more than 10 states showed more Democrats than Republicans leading.

Available results instead of cutting down the Democratic house majority of 197 as had been predicted gave that party a net gain of seven seats.

Already the Democrats held a majority of 200 in the senate and were leading in 13 of the 35 contests.

If the Roosevelt leads should hold, the Democrats would be in a position to elect 111 of the 435 members of the house.

Of the 48 states, Roosevelt led in 45, Landon in 3, and 1 state, New Mexico, was still undecided.

The trend was actually in Roosevelt's favor in the first 10 states where the returns were in.

Elsewhere were printing the handwriting on the wall announcing a Democratic landslide.

Before the election, the Democrats were leading in 10 states and were leading in 13 of the 35 contests.

The Roosevelt leads should hold, the Democrats would be in a position to elect 111 of the 435 members of the house.

Of the 48 states, Roosevelt led in 45, Landon in 3, and 1 state, New Mexico, was still undecided.

two days ago Franklin D.

As a result of an
to the Constitution to son, George Norris
the new president must take his oath of office almost eight weeks before any predecessor—in January—often a blustering, snowy mouth even as far south as the languid Potomac.

Norris sponsored the constitutional amendment in the belief that the "lame duck" Congress in modern times was a relic of the past, with its slow transportation arrangements.

Now with airplane and streamlined train, he argued the will of the people in a November election should react on legislation with the beginning of the new year after the election.

Congress Meets Jan. 5
Thus Congress will meet—a new congress—on Jan. 5, and a president be inaugurated on Jan. 20 for the first time. President Roosevelt therefore finds himself the first President in history with a term cut short.

One major hazard to the inauguration has resulted from the Norris amendment. Previously a "lame duck" Congress has met in January—a congress already organized to give official benediction to the electoral college count.

The new amendment provides that on Jan. 6, one day after the new congress convenes, house and senate will sit in joint session and give legal status to the electoral vote.

However, the possibility has risen that the house—an admix-ture of political affiliations—may be unable to organize by that date.
A strong "liberal bloc" conceivably could delay election of a new speaker so that the joint session would be delayed.

Here's How Nearby Counties Voted for President, Governor in Past Years

As residents of the Eighth congressional district went to the polls today to make their choices for president and other offices, they looked back on results of the 1932 and 1928 presidential elections and wondered which way it will go when the ballots are counted tonight.

If the 1932 and 1934 congressional contests could be taken as an indication the district normally belongs in the Democratic column because Congressman Brooks Fletcher won both times by margins passing the 3,000 mark. However a study of the vote of the individual counties on president and governor indicates at least some of the counties normally belong to the Republicans.

In the 1934 congressional contest Congressman Fletcher, Democrat, won over Mr. C. C. Jones of Findlay by a margin of 3,554 polling 39,466 against her 36,112. In 1932 he won over Grant E. Mouser Jr. his opponent this year by a margin of 3,696 receiving 45,930 votes to Mouser's 41,234. A study of the Marion county results in the presidential and gubernatorial contests of 1934 and 1928 leave the county's banner of power in doubt. In the 1932 contest between President Roosevelt and Herbert Hoover the county gave 10,354 of its 18,923 votes to Roosevelt and 8,569 to Hoover. The victory for Roosevelt in that year however was not as decisive as the county's margin for Hoover in the 1928 contest when it gave him 12,398 and Al Smith 3,458.

Despite the fact the county went Republican in 1928 and Democratic in 1932 so far as the presidential contests were concerned, it was definitely in the Democratic column in the last two gubernatorial elections—those held in 1934 and 1932.

In 1934 the county cast 16,322 votes for governor giving 6,369 to Davey and 9,953 to Clarence J. Brown, his Republican opponent. In the 1932 contest the county gave 10,453 votes to George White Democrat and 8,229 to David S. Ingalls Republican.

Today's Vote

If expectations are realized voting facilities in many places are going to be inadequate to handle the largest vote ever cast in the United States.

Going to the polls is not of course the whole thing. An amazing large percentage of Germans march to the polls on occasion but they do not really vote. They merely march. From present indications there will be little of that sort of thing today except in the larger cities where political machines callously deliver the vote.

Whatever one may think of the campaign it has been reasonably successful in outlining for voters the issue of the presidential election. Credit is due from all citizens to Gov. Landon in this respect. He was the aggressor in the debate. He called the Republican party behind his leadership. He made his points of difference with the new deal plain. He demonstrated clearly that there is no real connection between the new deal and the Democratic party, and with the help of Jeffersonian Democrats has recruited old line Democrats to support his candidacy. Without Gov. Landon or a candidate like him the campaign would have been a failure.

President Roosevelt has conducted a defensive campaign. Until he was forced to the stump by the gains of Gov. Landon he seemed willing to trust to the popularity he retained from his election sweep in 1932. He has asked for reelection solely on his record without taking the public into his confidence on whatever program he may have in mind for the future. What ever happens today, this aspect of the election will remain—Gov. Landon's vigorous attack and Mr. Roosevelt's all-aroundly indifferent defense.

Tired of It.

No one needs to apologize for confessing he is tired of politics. It is the country's normal state just before voting day. The circumstances of a campaign in the United States make a state of exhaustion inevitable by the time voters are permitted to mark their ballots. Both the electorate and the candidates are ready for a rest by Nov. 4.

It is an almost impossible task to prod at least 50,000,000 voters into political wakefulness. At one extreme is a group which never ceases to be alert. At the other extreme is a larger group which never ceases to be apathetic. As with school teaching in public schools the objective is to reach the apathetic group. In the meantime the alert political pupils and the mediocre ones chafe impatiently at delay.

As yet the campaign is too close to be evaluated. Looking backward at previous presidential campaigns one is likely to conclude that at least four years are required to bring perspective to politics in the United States. In 1936 it is easier to understand what happened in 1932 than it has been in any of the preceding three years. By 1940 the events of 1936 will be much clearer than they are now.

In the last few weeks many persons have voiced their impatience by saying they could see no excuse for a political process which left them weary to the point of wishing for some political system easier than representative democracy. They spoke sincerely in most cases but even so one wonders what that system could be.

If the people are to be given a voice in determination of their affairs they must be willing to submit themselves to the arguments of politicians. If they submit themselves to the arguments of politicians they are bound to discover that politicians can be a great nuisance. Under any other system they would make the same discovery but only in a free country can they rid themselves of too great a nuisance simply by making or not making a mark on a ballot.

Still a Big Country.

Meaning of the outbreak of labor trouble on the Pacific coast with ramifications in other coastal cities will have to wait on the excitement of the election to subside. Whether or not there is any connection between the windup of the campaign and occurrence of a strike impending for many weeks is a question which will need answering.

In this part of the country first news of the Pacific coast trouble is likely to start again an old and familiar thought—this is a big country. A strike in New York City a fire in Chicago a flood in New Orleans seem close and intimate. But beyond the Rockies lie Hollywood the redwoods and the blue Pacific—all remote. If it is fully possible the trouble which has been expected among maritime work-

Post-Mortem Soon To Begin

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—Now that the campaign is over, the post-mortem will begin in earnest. What mistakes did the Republicans make? Where in did the new deal strategists err? It is the duty of the outcome in electoral votes, political managers always endeavor to benefit from the errors of the past. But they do not begin to concede such errors till after the election returns are counted.

Since then the Republican mistakes they started at the Cleveland convention when old guard leaders insisted on in the big bluff plank that cost Governor Landon many votes. The importance of this plank was that the Republicans were in the hands of Democrats and in any fair campaign it is a long-established principle to try to make the platform or program conform to the wishes of the principal elements whose support is sought.

The post-mortem was a fusion campaign in every sense but it was not so regarded by the Republican high command. Except for an occasional appeal to Democrats who were directing the new deal and expressions of appreciation to Al Smith and others who came over to the Landon side the Republican party went through the whole campaign from convention to election on the assumption that this was a Republican party affair.

Every Republican fault that will be found by any critical reader will be found by a critical reader. The Republican campaign differed its first time it turned away at a lot of issues but did not keep to one central theme. Such a theme was the excessive spending far beyond the needs of recovery. Hardly any of the Landon speeches for example stressed the point that if recovery is here we the new deal claims why is it necessary to spend in the fiscal year 1937 more money than in the fiscal year 1936?

Mr. Landon's principal error apart from his attitude on recovery, which of course was an embarrassment that the old guard (Republican) now faulted on him was in his Des Moines speech. He promised a subsidy to the farmers and did not make it clear how he was going to do it within a balanced budget.

Had the Republican nominee presented an honest budget of the major items of expenditures, the result undoubtedly would have been different. The program in fact a temporary subsidy to agriculture might have been forgiven by his conservative supporters had it been possible to show that the budget would nevertheless be balanced.

From an organization viewpoint Republican national headquarters made its mistake—all headquarters do—but on the whole its campaign was much better managed than a minority party beaten in 1932 had a right to expect this year. John Hamilton did a remarkable job with a defeatist situation that stared him in the face from the very outset.

Mistakes of New Deal. Next the new deal campaign mistakes they relate to the future contents more than to the past. Commitments made by Mr. Roosevelt during the campaign in his speeches will rise to plague him as both conservatives and radicals attempt to hold him to the pledges actual and implied in his utterances.

The President never should have made the campaign trips that he did. His radio continued to rush in. The town of Kimbly, Ark., where old timers recall the diamond rush of 1896. They are talking now of new operations at the Pike county surface mines only producing diamond field in North America.

Better times prompt the talk—the depression virtually closed the field in 1930. The principal owners businesses most by successful in other lines and professions are counting market inroads and laying plans for a resumption of activity in the working, supposedly operated over a 20-year period. Two separate companies had acreage in the field.

We shut down with the decline in diamond prices which came with the depression but discussions of opening up again on a large scale are being held and a decision probably will be reached this winter. Alfred C. Keith Little Rock banker and an official of the Arkansas Diamond Corp. controlling most of the field explained.

An associate Roy L. Thompson president of a Little Rock painting company said previous operations had never been on a large scale.

But he did operate at a profit for years, he said, and it can be done again in normal times. The Arkansas diamonds are better than those from Africa and they bring prices just as good.

A United States geological survey published in 1925 said the fields large (1 find, were a 40.23 carat stone picked up in the summer of 1924 another of 27.5 carats found in 1921 and a third of 20.5 carats taken from the workings in 1917.

All Eyes Turn Toward New York

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—Pollsters will keep their eyes fixed on New York today. The election night returns from New York will be the weather vane. If the President wins it you may go to bed. The result should be conclusive by midnight.

But if Landon should happen to win the state you will probably never get to bed. The election will be wide open until the last vote is announced.

What makes New York so important is not its electoral vote but the fact that no expert has been able to work out a practical winning combination for Landon with out those 47 votes. Roosevelt can win without New York but Landon cannot.

Once in a very similar situation the same election situation did not work. Then as now California was considered such a certainty that it did not seem to be worth while counting votes there. When Hughes in 1916 won New York announced his victory were made. But next day Wilson won California by about 4,000 and the announcements were reversed.

A last minute check on the vital states has left even the experts at opposing headquarters writhing on the floor.

Consider Illinois for example. The official calculations at both headquarters use the Digest poll as a basis of their best calculations. They figure that the soundest estimate can be made by analyzing the percentage of gain for Landon over the Hoover vote and the percentage of loss for Roosevelt from his 1932 vote. This they eliminate some of the Digest error in polling more 1932 Republicans than Democrats.

On this basis they calculate the probable Illinois result as Landon 1,631,130. Roosevelt 1,609,074. A majority of about 45,000 for Roosevelt out of 3,240,204 votes.

As anyone can see this is reducing straw analysis to its proper level. But when such a system indicates anything less than a 50,000 majority it indicates nothing. So when most of the analysts now put Illinois in the category of probably Roosevelt they do so out of respect for the Chicago belly button machine rather than from the figures which indicate only that the state is highly doubtful.

Estimates. The same system also gives the following results: Massachusetts—Landon 807,707. Roosevelt 634,518. Pennsylvania—Landon 1,617,700. Roosevelt 1,524,526. New York—Roosevelt 2,352,442. Landon 1,129,821. Ohio—Landon 1,125,593. Roosevelt 1,171,526. Indiana—Roosevelt 760,332. Landon 750,319. Michigan—Landon 825,721. Roosevelt 807,707.

Election Costs

Expense Too High Generally Survey Shows.

By DAVID M. SAAL

THROUGHOUT the United States there is little uniformity in state or local election procedures except most of cost too much, most of the badly in need of reform to questionable practice. This is true despite the fact that the progress has been made in recent years in making election machinery more efficient. In some communities have taken steps forward, but others behind, their machinery is out of date and full of legal loopholes and gerrymandering.

Election units differ along geographical lines. In some states the system is divided into counties, in others into cities. In Pennsylvania including the city of Pittsburgh and Philadelphia, registrations and elections are managed from separate offices. This is decentralization at its worst. Election costs are high, efficiency is unimproved, responsibility is not fixed.

Costly Procedure. Inefficiency and political dealing in elections can be shown in a staggering totals of costs.

In New York City, Cleveland, where elections are conducted on a county basis, every election is a veritable army of clerks paid wages and salaries. In such cities election costs alone are so great they cost about 20 cents per vote.

Detroit, Milwaukee and St. Louis have well-managed election systems demonstrating practically how this permanent head may be cut drastically. Payrolls for permanent election employees range from one to 25 cents per vote.

Not all election employees make even a pretense of working. In Jersey City some years ago a check revealed 50 election officials on the payroll but only 12 were actually on duty.

There is little uniformity in naming subordinate officials under election boards which too frequently leads merely to the employment of poorly qualified individuals in return for precinct chores.

Typical Costs. Few persons realize the simple act of casting a ballot costs a surprising sum the amount of which depends upon the extent to which poll taxes controls the election. In Salt Lake City, for example, in the last general election the cost per vote was 10 cents for all expenses including payroll. In Columbus it reached the surprising total of $1.00. Between the extremes were Minneapolis 312 cents, Milwaukee 45 cents, Omaha 45 cents, St. Louis 51 cents, Boston 642 cents, Detroit 651 cents, New York City 86 cents, San Francisco 74 cents, Kansas City 80 cents, Chicago 91 cents, Baltimore 91 cents, Cleveland 110 cents, Dayton 110 cents.

The per vote average for the entire state of Ohio was 6 cents, substantially less than in any of the four cities named.

New York City's total election board budget in 1936 was $791,521. This is a heavy election year but even in 1937 (with many elections scheduled) the board has asked $1,920,100, an eloquent testimony to the money involved in permanent election employees in Kansas City. In one four year period four election board members received $48,000, all board employees $23,000.

Waste Disclosed. Research organizations that have made a business of compiling and analyzing election costs are quite bluntly of the wastage after one survey, for example, the Schenectady Bureau of Municipal Research reported:

The city spends from two and a half to three times more than would be required to hold elections according to the law. Patronage were eliminated and special favors in the size and number of disbursements were moved.

There is ample reason to believe that the Schenectady situation is the rule throughout the United States—and not an exception. Really ridiculous situations in improper districting are recorded. New York City on record has been a precedent for the election of five voters—one for every old official. Generally speaking authorities believe that no more than four officials ever are elected in one polling place and the even fewer often will serve. Local authorities have had discretion powers to reduce (but not raise) the number of such functionaries.

An increasing number of cities are turning each year to permanent registrars as a double-headed weapon to save money and scotch election frauds. While such a system will accomplish both these ends it is a compromise. The record shows it saves money it seems to close avenues of crooked dealing but not all of them. It must be constantly purged of faults, new or old names, otherwise it is wide open to recurring fraud.

STOOD FOR BLOCKS IN PARADES

as a campaign chore. But once in the train Landon waved his hat repeatedly often standing for blocks.

Three Recreations

During his campaign the candidate indulged as often as possible three favorite forms of relaxation: bridge, horseback riding and detective stories.

After a day's campaigning and a major speech at Milwaukee the governor delayed departure of his sunflower special an hour and a half while he played bridge with reporters. Finally at 2 m. Landon arose to leave 65 cents winner.

Those who played with against the governor described him as an able player inclined to take an all or nothing gamble in the bidding. Before making a major speech at Buffalo the Kansan read a detective story until after 3 o'clock in the morning.

During good weather while in Topeka Landon rode his Hunter. Sometimes while traveling he would find an opportunity to ride as at Frank O. Lowden's Sinsiniqui farm in Illinois and at N. D. (Dink) Darling's home in Des Moines.

During train operating stops when there was sufficient time Landon more than once walked down the track a quarter of a mile for exercise.

Newspaperman's Campaign

In many respects Landon's campaign could be called a newspaperman's campaign. Newspapermen were on his board of strategy editors comprised the majority of members of his personal party on each campaign drive and the governor liked to chat with reporters on his train all of whom he knew and called by their first names.

Fortuna of gifts of food along the campaign route often were sent to his private car.

On a rainy day through a bad rain Landon had to order the top of his car to be covered so he could walk to the cars along the way.

HURRIED THROUGH CONFETTI SHOWERS

sent forward to the press cars Landon himself was fond of good food and he wanted his meals at regular hours. Before a major speech however the nominee ate crackers and milk. Afterward he usually enjoyed a dish of ice cream before going to bed.

Landon evidenced no illusions about his ability as an orator but was a crack editor. The preparation of a speech began with a conference with advisers on the subject matter a rough outline by Landon a rewritten version by his staff editing by the governor and then a final polished draft.

Special attention was given to radio delivery. Experts on voice the most effective phrasing, sentence construction and type of delivery were included on the national committee staff.

Roosevelt—Thrived As 'Traveling Salesman'

By The Associated Press
By D. HAROLD OLIVER
(Who Accompanied President Roosevelt On His Campaign Tour)

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Nov. 2.—Franklin D. Roosevelt rested at his mothers home in the tiny Hudson river village of Hyde Park today while his countrymen were writing with ballots the momentous decision whether he is to serve another four years in the White House.

"Rested" is the proper word. For veteran political writers who accompanied the tall, 54-year-old chief executive as he "proclaimed" the new deal in more than 60 speeches over the nation testify it was no easy job, despite the radio and loudspeaker which permitted him to save on travel.

These men who for years have fronted "whirlwind tours and flying forays" of presidential candidates saw figuratively in F.D.R. a man who had just finished a 15-round bout and was awaiting the judges' verdict.

It was nothing new however, for the President. He knew all the ropes from having campaigned for the New York state legislature for governor twice for the vice presidency and the presidency. And it was this background and the fact that he followed the same rigid routine on the road and he adheres to in the White House that enabled him his physicians said to stand the strain.

I seem to think 10 days on a campaign tour is a long time for a President. He told an upstate New York crowd at the end of his 5,000-mile western swing.

Pre-Ordained Traveling Man

It was nothing new however, for the President. He knew all the ropes from having campaigned for the New York state legislature for governor twice for the vice presidency and the presidency. And it was this background and the fact that he followed the same rigid routine on the road and he adheres to in the White House that enabled him his physicians said to stand the strain.

Typical Day

A typical day on the Roosevelt campaign train was a typical day at the White House as far as routine went. He arose at 8:30 a. m. following a late night of work and at 8 a. m. if he had a morning speaking engagement.

While eating breakfast in bed he read the morning papers in the west he perused the front pages of New York first editions almost simultaneously with New York's Janks to airplane service provided by the airlines.

After a shower and a self shave with an old fashioned straight razor he would remain in his private car and receive local politicians work on speeches sign government mail and at some stops talk over a hastily arranged telephone direct from the train to Washington. After a particularly strenuous evening he usually has a rubdown in the morning.

His audiences with local politicians necessarily were brief due to the demands of his time. No press conferences were held on tour.

He kept up the White House custom of utilizing the lunch hour for conferences. Mrs. Roosevelt would learn his luncheon plans order for him and his guests then go into the kitchen to see the chef. Lunch with the lady secretariat.

Sleeps Well On Train

Those who have traveled with the President for years attribute his ability to keep fresh on trips to his routine.

Large Crowds

Political crowds sometimes are deceptive. Roosevelt crowds were what veteran scribers on the campaign special called large and exceedingly demonstrative. Alfred E. Smith has record crowds in 1928 and some writers even to this day are saying they fooled him.

Police estimated Roosevelt in door audiences at from 10,000 to more than 30,000 his outdoor howl crowds as high as 60,000 and his street crowds at from several thousand to more than a hundred thousand.

Retraced Old Steps

the soundness of his numbers on a train. Healthful eating might be another cause for his travel stamina. He eats food carefully chosen but has no special chef. All the food served to him is carried through compartment cars from the regular dining car with waiters doling out and governers in the narrow passageways.

While receiving some assistance on baggage and material from senators and others who accompanied him including Judge S. E. Rosenman his counsel when he was New York governor the President dictated virtually every line of his formal addresses according to his aide.

He usually waited until the last moment to polish them off work right up to the dead line as were the 25 to 30 correspondents who traveled with him.

Intimates explained this was due to his desire for the flavor of fresh news from fresh after they had sat up as late as 4 and 5 in the morning finishing advance abstracts of a few of his speeches.

Someone may have thought up a better one but he usually got a laugh when in thinking some well wisher for a bouquet for Mrs. Roosevelt he would say:

"Thanks for these fine flowers—and I don't see a sunflower in the bunch."

DIDN'T MIND THE RAIN

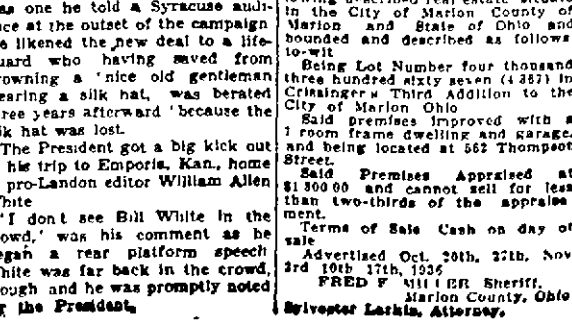

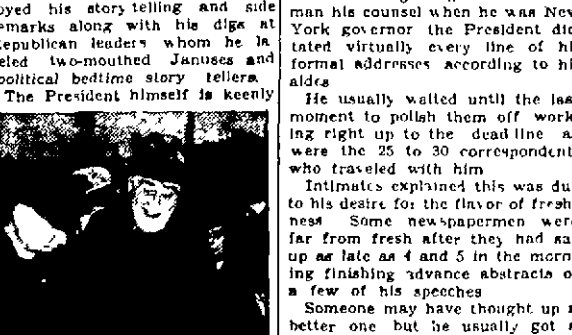

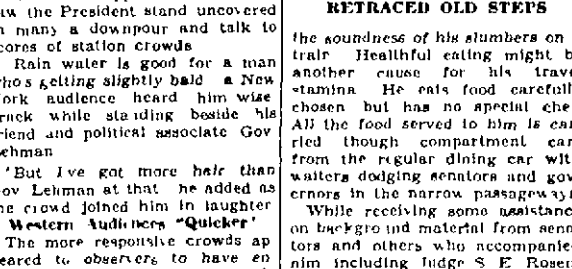

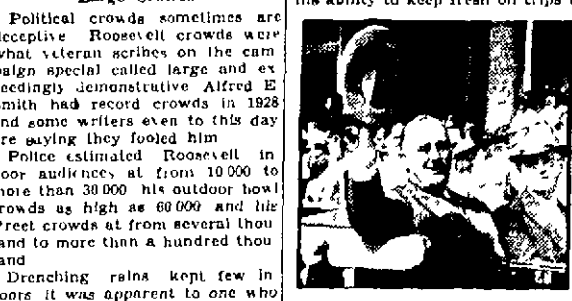

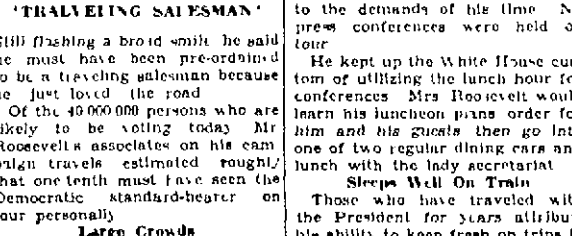

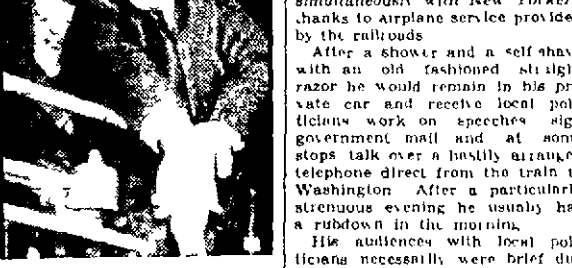

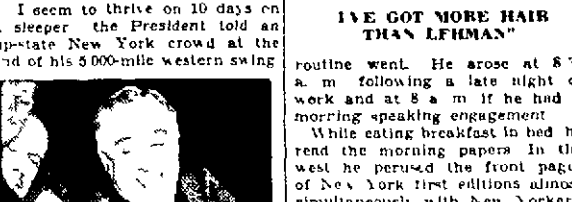

alert to responsiveness of audiences. After his western tour he noted that audiences west of the Mississippi were perhaps a little more on the pick-up than their more eastern neighbors.

Several times it was observed, applause out in the open spaces drowned out concluding phrases which were heard only over the radio.

The "talk of the train" though, was one he told a Syracuse audience at the outset of the campaign. He likened the new deal to a life-guard who having moved from drowning a "nice old gentleman wearing a silk hat, was beated three years afterward" because the silk hat was lost.

The President got a big kick out of his trip to Emporia, Kan., home of pro-Landon editor William Allen White.

"I don't see Bill White in the crowd," was his comment as he began a rear platform speech. White was far back in the crowd, though and he was promptly noted for the President.

Social Affairs

MRS. CHAUNCEY L. NEWCOMER of Bryan, vice president of the Ohio Federation of Women's clubs, was a guest speaker at a meeting of the Women's club yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Chester C. Roberts on East Church street. The members invited guests to hear Mrs. Newcomer's review of "Influence of Women and Its Care," by John Erskine. The book is a satire dedicated to the men of America and was cleverly presented by Mrs. Newcomer. The speaker is one of the outstanding women in state club activities and was awarded the General Federation prize for the best outline of teaching government in the public schools this year.

A social hour followed the review and tea was served. Mrs. Arthur S. Brooks, president of the club, presided at the table, and assisting Mrs. Roberts was the social committee composed of Mrs. Adrian Busick, chairman, Mrs. James R. Guthery, Mrs. Laura Dumbaugh and Mrs. Carl W. Sawyer.

Guests included Mrs. Charles H. Elliott, Mrs. O. B. Rapp, Mrs. Alwyn Crane, Mrs. J. H. Harrison, Mrs. C. O. Phalen, Mrs. J. Fred Dumbaugh, Mrs. Frank J. Longshore, Mrs. Floyd G. Brown, Mrs. John Galbreath, Mrs. Harvey T. Grady, Mrs. James R. Smith, Miss Berwick Christian, Miss Florence Durfee, Mrs. A. H. Henselanger, Mrs. Kelly Vance and Miss Clara Diebold.

The club will meet in one week with Mrs. James B. Guthery. The program will be the second Atlantic panel discussion and the topic will be "The Art of Pleading Everybody," by Richard Sherburne Ames, which appeared in the October issue of the Atlantic Monthly.

A GROUP of Marion friends of Mr. and Mrs. Roy D. Moore of Canton were among the 200 guests at the opening of the Moore stables Saturday evening at Congress Lake.

The guest list included horsemen and horsewomen from Cleveland and other cities in the state and was one of the most colorful events on Canton's social calendar. Attending from Marion were Mr. and Mrs. David W. Evans and daughter Loraine, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Schaffner, Mr. and Mrs. Dan LaMarche, Ralph T. Lewis and William K. Davis. The guests were asked to come in costume and the Marion party chose jockey costumes in the Moore stable colors of blue and yellow. A horse show opened the evening's festivities and later a country fair provided entertainment. At midnight a dinner was served.

O.E.S. Chapter Elects Officers At Annual Meet

MISS LEBELLE STUMP of 20 South Vine street was elected worthy matron of Lydia Chapter No. 33, Order of Eastern Star, at the annual meeting held last evening in the Masonic temple.

The following officers were elected to serve with Miss Stump: Harold W. Hall, worthy patron; Mrs. Florence Wood, associate patron; Dr. J. F. Neidhart, associate patron; Mrs. Florence Pickrel, secretary; Mrs. Millie Tachan, treasurer; Miss Pauline Ruhl, conductress; Mrs. Jennie Ewing, associate conductress; Mrs. Katherine Smith, trustee.

Annual reports were given by the secretary, treasurer, trustees, auditing committee, and the good-of-the-order, visitation, flower, social equipment and organ committees.

Mrs. Emil Sweeney, Mrs. Wood and Miss Stump gave reports of the grand chapter meeting last week in Columbus.

A brief memorial service was conducted for the late Mrs. Jessie Buckley and Mrs. Lucy Mitchell. Date of the installation of the newly elected officers will be announced later. Initiatory work will be conducted at the next meeting on Nov. 16.

Central Pupils Go To Polls with Rest of Nation

If it should prove that "As Central goes, so goes the nation," today's election will be a Democratic landslide.

Six hundred and sixty-nine Central Junior High school pupils conducting their annual school election today, took time to mark ballots for heads of the national and state tickets.

Roosevelt polled 436 to 231 for Landon and Davey chalked up 424 against 242 for Bricker. Two voters failed to declare a preference on the presidential ballot and three did not take part in the gubernatorial voting.

Gerald Strauss, an eighth grade pupil was elected president of the school, defeating Kathryn Stuckey, a ninth grade pupil. Other successful candidates are Helen Plotner, ninth grade, vice president; Donald Lister, ninth grade, secretary; Carl Robinson, ninth grade, treasurer.

The defeated candidates are Ralph Mapes, eighth grade, Betty Rinesmith, eighth grade, and Dorothy Barker, ninth grade.

Polls were opened at 8 and at 8:30 the six hundred and sixty-ninth ballot had been cast and classes were under way.

When counting of the ballots was over the successful candidates went to the office of Principal W. E. Orcutt and thanked their "constituents" via the school amplifying system. The new president will give his inaugural address at the next school assembly which probably will be held next week.

BY ANNE ADAMS

EVERY FROCK FITS SMOOTHLY OVER THIS "UNDIE" SET.

Want to know a secret? That coordinating look you've seen in the window of the "undie" set is the result of a carefully planned and carefully made pair. Their seams are of the simplest, while their fit is full enough to prevent any "showing up." Such an undie set is Pattern 4212, and a few hours of cutting and sewing will see your new set ready to wear. The built-up shoulder straps for your low-back frock are possible for you to wear with your sheerest dressy frocks, although a light back may also be had. Good material synthetic.

Pattern 4212 is available in sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42. Size 16 takes 3-5-6 yards of fabric. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

Send fifteen cents (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly, name, address and style number.

Write today for your copy of our new Anne Adams pattern book, complete guide to the latest, smartest, sporty clothes, dress-up frocks and "at home" styles! Full of new fabric and accessory tips, too! You'll be delighted with the many suggestions for gifts, kid-dies' tops, party clothes, and Junior styles—all just begging to be made, worn, and admired! Book fifteen cents, pattern fifteen cents. Twenty-five cents for both when ordered together.

Address orders to The Marion Star Pattern Department, 248 W. 17th St., New York, N. Y.

The Stars Say—

For Thursday, Nov. 5

GENERALLY ADVERSE conditions are forecast from the preceding planetary configurations. There are signs of vexations, disruption, group disappointments and sorrows, as well as financial difficulties and perils.

Those whose birthday it is are warned of a year of much vexation, unrest, disturbance and disappointment unless great care and wisdom is employed to prevent such adversities.

A child born on this day may be restless, changeable and extravagant unless given early discipline and direction.

CAPTAIN, I'VE JUST BEEN INFORMED THAT YOU SHOT AND SERIOUSLY WOUNDED AN UNARMED MAN NAMED GREGORY LOWRY.

I DID NOT SHOOT HIM, COMMISSIONER. HALL—

HE LIES, SIR! HE'S IN LOVE WITH MY NIECE AND WAS JEALOUS.

I FOUND HIS REVOLVER ON THE FLOOR BESIDE HIM—ONE BULLET HAS BEEN DISCHARGED.

YOU HAVE DISGRACED THE SERVICE, CLARK! YOU SHALL BE TRIED BY COURT-MARTIAL ON THE CHARGE OF ASSAULT WITH INTENT TO KILL—

MR. LOWRY WON'T REGAIN CONSCIOUSNESS. MISS LACEY, UNTIL THE BULLET HAS BEEN REMOVED FROM HIS HEAD.

BUT IS THERE HOPE THAT HE MAY SURVIVE AN OPERATION?

GENTLEMEN, IT ALL SEEMS TOO GOOD TO BE TRUE!

WE SHALL NOT MAKE THE NEWS PUBLIC UNTIL YOU SAY THE WORD, SIR!

I CARE NOT FOR MYSELF, BUT FOR JUDY'S SAKE—I AM VERY HAPPY—I CAN NOW PROVIDE HER WITH A NICE HOME AND COMFORTS!

APPARENTLY, THE TWO STRANGERS BROUGHT GOOD TO EZRA AND NOT HARM!

Annie Rooney

DID I SEE A LITTLE GIRL NAMED ANNIE ROONEY AROUND HERE? WELL, IF I DID I WOULDN'T TELL THE LIKES OF YOU ABOUT IT.

WHY, MY GOOD WOMAN, WHY ARE YOU ASKING?

DON'T CALL ME YOUR GOOD WOMAN, EVEN IF I HADN'T HEARD ABOUT YOU—COME LOOK AT THE CRUEL, SNEAKY-LOOKING FACE OF YOURS WOULD TELL ME YOU WERE MRS. MEANY—GET AWAY FROM MY HOUSE BEFORE I FORGET I'M A LADY—SKAT, YOU OLD WITCH.

SO YOU'RE LOOKING FOR ANNIE ROONEY, EH?—WELL, KEEP RIGHT ON LOOKING—I KNOW ALL ABOUT YOU—AND IF YOU WEREN'T A FEMALE WOMAN, I'D BREAK THIS CRUTCH OVER YOUR HEAD.

HONEST, SALLY, YOUR FATHER IS GRAND, HIDING ME HERE IN YOUR HOUSE WHERE MRS. MEANY CAN'T KETCH ME—BUT I'M SCARED THAT MRS. MEANY WILL MAKE TROUBLE FOR YOUR FATHER.

MY FATHER ISN'T SCARED OF NOBODY—IF MRS. MEANY COMES HE'LL FIX HER.

PLEATS ADD STYLE TO BLOUSE AND SKIRT OF CHIC TWO-PIECER

Waiting for now and the whole to come, is Pattern 4155—
 as easily made two-piece frock with waist, to suit the
 These last fashion news in it, self-turned-down collar, and rag-lan sleeves cut wide at the wrists.
 And Adams know that pleats are to the place they thought cleverly on the blouse, and (surprise of surprise) on the back of the skirt!
 Interest aplenty in Pattern 4156, to its individual blouse boasts a back buttoned closing that's sure to draw admiring comments whenever you go! Make this "new" of colorful fabric, one that takes to and wear. Why not cotton-tweed, check, shabby wool, or a novelty cape!

The Stars Say—
For Wednesday, Nov. 3

VERY active and enterprising day, presaged from the bright lunar aspects. The forces of faculties will be under rather apt tension to the direction of the undertakings, especially under the encouragement and support of messengers, rings, secret bodies or diplomatic or political circles. Be careful in connection with letters, writings or documents. In private affairs there are indications of much rejoicing and festivity.

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for a very lively and promising year, particularly in pursuing over important projects with the aid and support of messengers, combines, secret societies or political or diplomatic interests. Be watchful in connections with letters, writings and contracts. Purely private affairs may show much general sentiment and sociability. There may be a small gain through speculation.

Child born on this day may be energetic, resourceful and may wish to work through strategy, not diplomacy or politics. It may be jovial and popular because of its bright wit.

Business with muffers that leads to a minimum, a day for making street repairs in the morning and operated by a single man.

The Wrong Murderer

By HUGH CLEVELY

him swiftly and unexpectedly. There was no hope of that now. Lawson's tone of cool contempt had added fuel to Lee-Ramsden's rage, destroying any hope of even a temporary reconciliation. The old man's face became suffused with a flush of violent rage; that little vein, which betrayed his temper, was beating strongly in his forehead.

"Deal with me, will you," he said thickly. "You'll deal with me, you bound. I'll damned soon deal with you."

His eyes had become slightly bloodshot. For a moment he gazed round the room wildly, as if seeking something. His glance encountered a bronze statuette standing on a small table. He sprang forward, snatched it up in his right hand, and buried himself at Lawson's head.

The statuette came down in a vicious blow aimed at Lawson's head, and it was only Lawson's swiftness which saved him.

He dodged quickly, sprang out of range, and then, as the old man lumbered after him, sprang forward to meet him, snatching at the wrist of the hand that held the statuette.

For a few seconds the two men struggled at close quarters. Lawson, trying to push the old man over and pin him down in an arm chair, the old man striving vainly to brain Lawson with the statuette. Actually the struggle should have been quite unequal, for Lawson, was by far the younger and immeasurably the stronger of the two, but rage lent the old man strength, and, try as he could, Lawson could not master him.

A sudden spasm of fierce impatience seized on Lawson; he felt he must end this struggle quickly. Shifting his grip, he released Lee-Ramsden's wrist, clutched at the statuette, snatched it out of the old man's hand, and brought it crashing down on his head.

That ended the struggle all right. The old man's body suddenly went limp; he staggered back a pace, and then fell crashing to the floor. Lawson, breathing heavily, was left standing in the middle of the room.

Lee-Ramsden lay quite still. The flush had faded from his face, and his complexion had taken on a curious grey tinge. From the left side of his head ran a small trickle of blood.

"Oh, damn!" said Lawson.

He threw the statuette down, stepped quickly across the room, poured out a glass of brandy, and bent over the old man. But one moment's inspection showed him that brandy could do no good at all. Lee-Ramsden was dead.

Lawson rose slowly to his feet. All his impatience and anger had left him; his mind was cool and alert to deal with this new situation which had arisen.

The chances were that his house was being watched by some of Mahony's friends; Lee-Ramsden would have been seen arriving; and that brandy could do no good at all. Lawson frowned, and meditatively sipped from the glass of brandy which he was holding in his hand. Lee-Ramsden's car was outside the house; his hat and overcoat were in the hall. He sipped his brandy again and nodded slightly. He knew what he was going to do.

He finished the brandy and rang the bell for the butler. The man entered and stood waiting; he betrayed no astonishment whatever at the sight of that still body lying on the floor.

"I've got a job for you," said Lawson curtly. "Mr. Lee-Ramsden's hat and coat are in the hall. Put them on, and then make your way quickly out to his car and drive away. If anybody's watching, I want them to think it's Lee-Ramsden driving away."

"Go on, then, certain you're not being followed, and then abandon the car in a quiet place, and bring the hat and overcoat back here in a parcel."

"Very good, sir," replied the man, and left the room.

That was that, thought Lawson. If Lee-Ramsden had been seen entering his house, he would also be seen driving away from it. So far as the body in the house for the time being till a convenient opportunity occurred to dispose of it. In a corner of the room stood a big cupboard containing unimportant books and papers. Lawson cleared them out, piled them in another corner of the room, thrust the body into the cupboard and locked the cupboard door.

Fatty Bassell was very worried. Things were happening which he did not understand in the slightest. He sat frowning, staring at the fireplace, and occasionally drinking beer from a large tankard. Barney Flynn, who was with him, noticed his preoccupied air.

"What's the trouble with you, this evening, Fatty?" he inquired.

Fatty shook his head. Ordinarily he was not a communicative person, but on this occasion he felt the need to confide in someone.

"It's the gunner," he answered. "I'm thinkin' he's gone off 'is rocker. But you know wot 'is like; it's no use arguin' with 'im."

"And what's he after doin' now?" asked the Irishman.

"E's made an appointment to meet Miss Little in a lonely house in Clapham in an hour's time. E told me 'iself 'e reckoned there was a trap in it—that that bloke Lawson was layin' for 'im with some dirty scheme. An' 'e's gone off on 'is own, and when I ask wot I was to do about guardin' 'im, or settin' an ambush to catch Mr. Ruddy Lawson, 'e says, 'do nothin'."

"What's that yer sayin'?" You mean he's gone off to that house where he expects to find a trap, an' there's nobody from our side gone with him at all?"

"That's what I mean," answered Fatty grimly. "I tried to talk it out of 'im, but 'e wouldn't listen. Don't worry about me, Fatty, 'e says, 'I know wot I'm up to, an' 'e's a went."

"And you let him go like that, all by himself?" said a voice just behind them.

Ruth Fraser had just entered the room and was standing, pale and indignant, looking at the two men.

"You let Terence go off by himself, knowing he was going into a trap?" she repeated.

Fatty had an uncomfortable air. He fidgeted uneasily in his seat.

"There was no stoppin' 'im," he protested. "E didn't want any of my blokes mixed up in this, an' 'e didn't want to be followed. I tried to argue with 'im, but it was no good."

"Tell me exactly what happened—the whole story," said Ruth imperiously.

Fatty hesitated. He looked more uncomfortable than ever. It seemed that he did not know what to say.

"Well, Miss... it's a bit awkward like, because 'e particularly told me I wasn't to say nothin' about it to you," he blurted out.

"Oh, did he?" said Ruth. "Then you can just forget that. You've already told me something about it, and you're going to tell me the rest. He's gone to meet Miss Little, I think I heard you say."

Her expression was set and determined; it was evident that she meant to learn all Fatty knew. Had she been a man, Fatty would have had no hesitation in telling

ROOSEVELT LEAD CLIMBS TO 46 STATES

DEMOCRATIC TICKET WINS ALL CONTESTS FOR STATE OFFICES

Davey's Lead Over Bricker Mounts to 123,903 with Returns Nearly All in; Judge Lone G. O. P. Hope.

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, Nov. 4.—Gov. Martin L. Davey and the Democratic state ticket appeared today to have won the office by the Roosevelt landslide. Returns from 7,095 of the state's 8,600 precincts showed Davey steadily increasing his majority, which reached 123,903 over Atty. Gen. John W. Bricker. At the same time Gov. Davey had amassed 123,838 for his opponent.

OHIO VOTE HIGH FOR ROOSEVELT

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, Nov. 4.—The only ray of sunshine for the Republicans was the possible reelection of Judge Roy H. Williams of Sandusky to the supreme court. He was second in the race with two to be elected. He had a majority of 52,000 over the second high Democratic candidate. Judges however are elected on non-partisan ballots.

Democratic State Chairman Francis W. Poulson claiming election of Gov. Davey and the entire state ticket said early today. This vote of confidence must be better than words can express widespread public recognition that President Roosevelt and Gov. Davey have served the people well and are willing to have these Democratic leaders continue their programs in behalf of the people.

Neither Attorney General Bricker nor Dale Duffin, manager of his campaign, would concede Democratic victory early today nor comment on the results except by saying there appears to have been a lot of straight Democratic votes cast.

Majority Senate Leader Paul P. Yoder of Eaton was leading Paul M. Herbert of Columbus in the lieutenant governor race by almost 85,000 in 4,202 precincts while William J. Kennedy had a lead of more than 125,000 over Earl Griffith in the race for secretary of state in 4,051 precincts.

Ferguson Leads Tracy
Joseph T. Ferguson was leading Joseph T. Tracy in the state audit race by 10,000 in 4,137 precincts and Clarence H. Kniskern had a lead of more than 7,000 over Harry S. Day for state treasurer in 4,136 precincts.

Herbert S. Duffin had run his lead to more than 110,000 in 4,059 precincts over Thomas J. Herbert in the attorney general contest.

Secretary of State George S. Myers (D) was leading in the field of four for the two supreme court judgeships with Judge Williams second. Myers had a lead of almost 30,000 over William H. Hart (R) third in the race while Williams had a lead of 10,000 over Earl Ludeke.

Will P. Stephenson (D) was trailing with 45,000 under Hart. The vote was from 3,223 precincts.

The amendment to repeal the sales tax on food was winning by more than two to one in 3,682 precincts while the amendment to repeal double liability of bank stockholders was ahead by more than 100,000 in 3,688 precincts.

Food Sales Tax Killed by Wide Margin of Votes

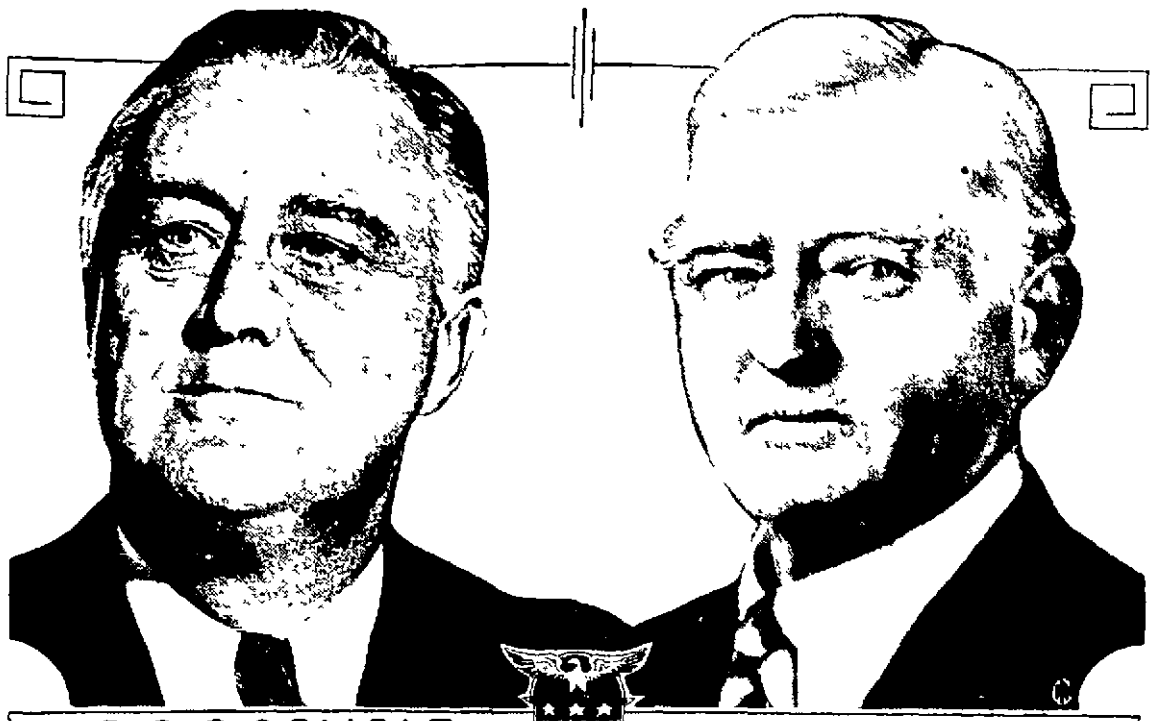

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, Nov. 4.—Ohioans soon will discontinue paying the sales tax on food purchased for home consumption. Increasing returns today showed an overwhelming vote in favor of the amendment initiated by Gov. Martin L. Davey. It is 6,041 of the state's 8,600 precincts that the vote was 1,016,695 to 475,420 against on food, and 475,420 against on food.

A large margin also was piled up in favor of the other proposal to change the state constitution—amendment removing the provision for double liability on bank stockholders. The vote in 6,121 precincts was 70,091 for repeal to 52,835 against.

The state constitution requires only a simple majority to make the amendments effective 30 days after election.

The sales tax amendment may become effective as early as Nov. 11 however because that date was provided in the measure which Ohio voters approved. State election expert George Neffner said this was a fine question for constitutional lawyers since approval of the Nov. 11 date may supersede the 30-day requirement now in the constitution.

Race Third Between Same Candidates

Complete returns from the six counties of the eighth congressional district this morning gave Congressman Brooks Fletcher an even 7,000 margin of victory over the incumbent, Earl Ludeke. The figures were 49,670 for Fletcher and 42,670 for Mouser's checkup showed.

Hancock is the only county in the district carried by Mouser. He polled 10,272 votes there or 275 more than Fletcher.

Fletcher's victory was more decisive than in his 1932 contest with Mouser when he was the winner by a majority of 4,596. In that contest also Fletcher carried all counties in the district excepting Hancock.

The contest between Fletcher and Mouser for the congressional post this year was the third time they competed for the office. Each had won once previous to 1936. The vote by counties in the congressional contest as reported today follows:

Marion county—Fletcher 11,361; Mouser 9,555; Fletcher majority 1,806.

Crawford county—Fletcher 10,635; Mouser 6,773; Fletcher majority 3,862.

Morrow county—Fletcher 4,018; Mouser 3,056; Fletcher majority 962.

Hardin county—Fletcher 8,034; Mouser 7,937; Fletcher majority 97.

Wyandot county—Fletcher 7,635; Mouser 4,227; Fletcher majority 3,408.

Hancock county—Fletcher 9,947; Mouser 10,222; Mouser majority 275.

Official figures on the congressional contest when completed by the county boards of election in the six counties of the district will be certified to the Marion county board for assembling into a district official report.

WHAT WILL PRESIDENT DO WITH HIS NEW VICTORY?

Wide Range of Political Philosophies Included in Multitude of Americans Supporting Him.

By BYRON PRICE
Chief of Washington Bureau of Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—After the devastating triumph of President Roosevelt's party in the congressional elections of 1936 many wise observers felt that the returns left the most important questions unanswered. The same can be said of the election of 1936.

Again Mr. Roosevelt has won a tremendous victory. Again he has rallied to his support a multitudinous company of Americans who do not agree among themselves on many subjects, but whose philosophy of government and society space a wide range. And again he has been vested with vast responsibilities such as few men have known before him.

NEW HAMPSHIRE'S SHIFT LEAVES G.O.P. MAINE AND VERMONT

Electoral Vote Stands at 523 to 8 in New Deal's Favor as President's Popular Lead Nears 9,000,000.

By The Associated Press
A ROOSEVELT LANDSLIDE that shook the nation today left but two states clinging to Republicanism. Maine and Vermont alone clung to the banner of Alf Landon. New Hampshire, after warring with him all night, finally turned decisively into the victorious columns of Roosevelt.

All the other states already had given the Democratic presidential ticket shouting majorities in the electoral college, sent new recruits to the previously top-heavy list of Democratic senate and house members. The electoral vote stood at 523 for Roosevelt, 8 for Landon.

What Shift Told
The final tallying of the 1936 election left the public with the smallest electoral vote the party has had since the Taft debacle in 1912. Taft had just 8 votes. He had gone to the Bull Moose of Theodore Roosevelt and the rest to Woodrow Wilson. Not since 1920 when James M. Cox was elected with just one dissenting vote in the electoral college has there been so close an approach to unanimity of election.

The new deal plurality of popular vote seemed likely to approach 9,000,000.

Of the prize packages heavily piled with electoral votes California came to Roosevelt by half a million. Illinois by 190,000. Michigan by 100,000. New York by more than a million. Ohio by 800,000. Pennsylvania the strong fortress of 54 electoral votes.

In the state the Democrats had lost to the G.O.P. the 10 seats in the House of Representatives. The Republicans escaped the landslide. Sen. McNary of Oregon the Republican leader was having a bad fight and the various Houseings of Delaware and Metcalf of Rhode Island were beaten.

House Lead Mounts
More Democratic house members instead of 12 were added in the contest. In many states the issue was in doubt. However the victory of Roosevelt in California was decisive.

Of the 36 states at stake the Democrats had captured 14. The Republicans took two with leading for three more.

While the President smilingly received the play of supporters at Hyde Park a new stage opened to him over the telegraph screen from the defeated governor of Kansas.

The nation has spoken. Landon who lost to Mr. Roosevelt in the election of 1920, was again defeated.

After returns collected the veteran Sen. Capper of Kansas, Republican, had led in the state. Landon had led in the state. Landon had led in the state.

At least four Republican seats in the senate will be occupied next January by Democrats.

Republican old timers were falling beneath the avalanche of Democratic votes in both houses. Senators Metcalf of Rhode Island and Hastings of Delaware were whipped respectively by Gov. Thomas C. Glenn and Justice M. Hughes. Sen. Harbo of New Jersey was trailing badly.

With about half the precincts in New Mexico the Republican floor.

PENSION EMPLOYEES' HEARINGS TOMORROW

Civil Service Commission To Be in Marion for Ouster Proceedings.

The state civil service commission is to conduct hearings in the common pleas courtroom here Thursday on appeal of James A. Kirby and Walter E. Mathiot, both of Marion from orders removing them as administrators and investigators, respectively in the county old age pension office.

It is the second time the commission has prepared to conduct hearings for the two men. On a previous occasion, the commission set aside plans for a hearing when it was advised by the attorney general's office that the state division of aid for the aged was without authority to remove the men. Subsequently, the removal orders were drawn again and signed by Mrs. Ruby McNamara, chairman of the Marion county old age pension board. Both Kirby and Mathiot immediately appealed to the civil service commission. Kirby is charged with incompetency, insubordination and improper treatment of applicants for pension. Mathiot is charged with improper signing of papers relating to a pension application. Kirby is represented by J. W. Jacoby, Mathiot by George T. Gorman.

NEW DEAL WINS 22 OHIO SEATS

Only 10th and 13th Districts Give Republicans Lead in Nearly Complete Reports.

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 4.—In congressional elections, the National Union for Social Justice and Independent, Ohio's 21 congressional seats today have been divided 22 to 2 in favor of Democrats on the basis of mounting returns.

Republicans led in only two districts, the 10th and 13th, but in both of these they appeared virtually certain of election.

Nine of the apparent winners were incumbents of the 10th, while five other Coughlin-favored candidates were in the lead. The Townsend-backed group numbered three in the recent winner column and three others in the lead.

Fourteen of the 19 incumbents were out in front, a dozen apparently too far to be headed.

The Republican incumbent, Thomas A. Jenkins of Ironton, led O. J. Kieffer of Hamilton, 10,810 to 12,693 with 115 of the 14th district's 283 precincts reported. In the 13th, Dudley A. White of Norwalk had 25,092 votes to 24,650 for Forest R. Black, with 290 of the 342 precincts in.

Elsewhere the Democratic sweep was unimpeded. With the vote count nearly finished, Democrats and John McSwainey of Wooster and Harold G. Mosler of Cleveland were virtually certain of election for the two congressional-at-large positions, each having more than 100,000 votes ahead of his Republican opponent.

The others, by districts, ranked as follows:

First—Joseph A. Dixon of Cincinnati, Coughlin candidate, more than 5,000 votes ahead of Rep. John B. Hamilton in nearly complete returns.

Second—Ray Herbert S. Bigelow, Coughlinite, 6,200 ahead of incumbent William E. Hess with only 30 precincts reported.

Third—Democratic Rep. Byron B. Harlan of Dayton, defeated Rep. Frank L. Kline off to a 4,000-vote lead with nearly half the 400 precincts completed.

Fifth—Democratic Rep. Frank C. Griffith of Napoleon, Coughlin-backed, defeated.

Sixth—Democratic Rep. James G. Polk of Highland, 8,600 ahead with 123 precincts in.

Seventh—Township Democrat, Coughlin-backed, defeated.

Eighth—Brooks Fletcher, Marion Democrat, Coughlin-backed, elected.

Ninth—John F. Hunter, Democrat, Coughlin-supported, elected.

Tenth—Republican Rep. Thomas A. Jenkins, elected.

Eleventh—Democratic H. K. Claypool of Chillicothe, elected.

Twelfth—Democratic Rep. Arthur L. Lammick, Coughlin-indebted, elected.

can, the biggest majority of any county candidate. Cole polled 12,742 votes of which 8,474 were in the city and 4,268 in the rural districts. Clifton's total of 7,858 was made up of 6,152 city votes and 1,706 in rural districts. Cole took an early lead which never was seriously threatened.

Carl F. Haberman's victory as a Democratic challenger of Clerk of Courts Everett B. Grigsby, Republican, in his campaign for reelection was decided by a margin of 874 votes. Haberman polled 10,906 to Grigsby's 10,322. Haberman carried the city 6,573 to 6,892 and the rural precincts by a vote of 4,023 to 3,529.

Haberman got an early lead by establishing a 41-vote edge in the first five precincts. He won four of the next five, building up his lead to 207 in the first 10 precincts reported. When 15 had reported Haberman's lead had grown to 231. Grigsby reduced it momentarily to 172 when 20 precincts had reported and cut it to 128 when the twenty-fifth voting place had reported, only to see Haberman build it up again to the 674-vote margin of victory. Haberman formerly occupied the clerk's office one term, losing to Grigsby two years ago. Grigsby has been clerk since.

Prosecuting Attorney Paul D. Michel, Republican, and his Democratic opponent, Paul Jones, staged a lively skirmish for leadership as the vote came in. Michel won the county by polling 10,660 votes of 801 more than Jones' 10,059.

Jones took the first precinct reporting, 198 to 186, but Michel took the second, 253 to 145. He also carried the next two and when five had been tallied had a lead of 351. Jones took three of the next five reporting and had cut Michel's lead to 72 when 10 had been tallied. Michel, under pressure, took several precincts, increased his lead to 237 in the fifteenth and to 452 in the twentieth precinct. The race continued to grow although Jones carried a number of individual precincts by substantial margins.

Tozzer Wins
County Engineer Carl Tozzer, Democrat, won reelection over Cecil R. Jacobs by a margin of 1,301. He polled 11,180 ballots, Jacobs 9,879. The contest was uneventful after Tozzer built up an early lead and maintained it without any serious threats of being overtaken.

Sheriff Fred F. Miller, Republican, won another term in his contest with J. W. Harritt by receiving 11,881 votes, a victory margin of 1,788 over Harritt. Miller established a 208-vote lead in the first 10 precincts reporting and increased it steadily. He carried the city, 7,700 to 6,210 and the rural precincts 3,873 to 3,307.

Probate Judge Oscar Gant, Republican, won an uneventful victory over W. Dexter Hazen, an independent nominee for the office, by a vote of 10,714 to 8,493 or a victory margin of 2,221. Gant carried the city precincts 6,901 to 5,988 and the rural districts 3,813 to 2,510.

Naher's Majority Large
Another one-sided contest was County Recorder Paul Naher's victory over his Republican rival, Elmer Shaw. Naher received 11,730 votes, Shaw 8,000, giving Naher a majority of 2,737. Naher carried the city 7,732 to 5,000 and the rural precincts 4,031 to 2,997.

Commissioners Re-elected
County Commissioners J. O. Welke and Lee J. Cuckey, both Democrats, won decisive victories over their Republican challengers, U. F. Zachman and H. C. Cass. Cuckey polled the field of four candidates by polling 11,106 votes with Welke a close second with 11,004. Then came Zachman with 8,008 and Cass trailed with 8,811.

Dr. M. F. Axthelm, Democrat, unopposed for election as county coroner, received a complimentary vote of 823.

Officials elected to county offices yesterday will serve four-year terms. This will be twice the previous length of terms for clerks of courts, treasurers, prosecuting attorneys, recorders, and coroners and sheriffs. A law extending the terms was passed this year by the state legislature.

NEW DEAL BOOSTS LEAD IN CONGRESS

Landon was in a tight battle for reelection Democratic Floor Leader Robinson of Arkansas came through by a big margin.

One veteran, Sen. Borah of Idaho, ran far ahead of his fellow Republicans to beat out Gov. Ben Ross.

Sen. Norris of Nebraska, in a hot three-cornered fight, apparently had come out on top. He pulled out of the Republican party to run as an Independent.

Sen. J. Hamilton Lewis of Illinois established a precedent by winning reelection. He was the first senator to succeed himself in the state since election of senators by popular vote was inaugurated in 1913.

Despite the Democratic tide, Rep. Bettrand Snell of New York, Republican leader of the house, came through. Other house leaders re-elected included Speaker Bankhead of Alabama, Rep. O'Connor of New York, chairman of rules; and Boland of Pennsylvania the Democratic whip.

Among house veterans who went down were Rep. Florence Kahn, California Republican, and Ramsey and Darrow, Pennsylvania Republicans.

ROOSEVELT SWEEPS OHIO FOR NEW DEAL

large positions were taken easily by Democrats John McSwainey of Wooster, former state welfare director, and Lieut. Gov. Harold G. Mosler of Cleveland.

Roosevelt, who stressed his "progressive" theme in an Ohio campaign, jumped into the lead on first returns and steadily increased the margin over the Kansas governor, who was reelected at Marietta, O.

The Dacey-Bricker battle was a race-near affair until midnight. Then, as the Roosevelt majority jumped ahead, the deeper governor who sought a second term "on his record" and a claimed "economic administration" of state government took the lead.

Bricker, two-term attorney general who had criticized the Dacey administration for alleged extravagance, fell back and looked to be the loser by nearly 100,000.

The avalanche of Democratic ballots ousted Joseph T. Tracy, whose 16 years as state auditor gave him a record for continuous service, and Harry S. Day, Republican state treasurer who had served five terms.

Cincinnati, traditionally Republican, gave a lead to Joseph A. Dixon and Rev. Herbert S. Bigelow, Democratic and National Union for Social Justice-backed congressional candidates, over Republican incumbents, John B. Hamilton and William E. Hess.

Greene county, Republican for 80 years, went entirely Democratic. Of the 21 N.U.S.J. supported congressional candidates 12 were apparent winners.

Only Six Townsend Men
The Townsend plan or organization also endorsed 21, but only six looked to be winners in most cases, both of them approved the same candidates.

The Republicans only ray of light came on the non-partisan ticket for two supreme court justices, Judge Roy H. Williams, a Republican, was second among four candidates.

Roosevelt's victory was never in doubt. He carried at least 85 of the 88 counties. In 1932, he carried only 55. All of the state's large counties favored the President.

Roosevelt received 49.9 per cent of Ohio's popular vote in 1932 and Herbert Hoover 47 per cent.

Dacey's lead and that of the other Democratic state candidates followed closely along behind him. Jorties which were built up by Roosevelt. The governor was ahead in 48 of the 88 counties.

Among house veterans who went down were Rep. Florence Kahn, California Republican, and Ramsey and Darrow, Pennsylvania Republicans.

DELAWARE DEFEATS LOCAL OPTION VOTE

Local option vote to prohibit the sale of intoxicants within the city of Delaware failed here yesterday by an estimated majority of 800 votes in the unofficial returns. As a result of the vote the city will retain its "wet-dry" status and permit the sale of beer, wines and liquor.

REPUBLICANS WIN IN DELAWARE VOTE

Only Two Democratic County Candidates Victorious.

Special to The Star
DELAWARE, Nov. 4.—Delaware county voters favored Republican candidates in the state and national contests and only two Democratic county aspirants were elected in yesterday's balloting here a final tabulation of the county's 43 precincts showed.

An expenditure of approximately $900 for books to be placed in general circulation at the Marion City library and the county branch libraries to be opened some time before the first of the year, was authorized at a meeting of the library board last night at the library.

The branch libraries, which will be established at Prospect and Larue, are being equipped for use. No definite dates for the openings have been set, the board stated today.

NATION NOW WAITS ROOSEVELT POLICY

some further repercussions of these policies can be escaped until the wide circle of the President's own followers. He has lost from the party fold some of the more independent, both on the right and on the left; but he still has among those who more or less tacitly helped to make up his majority of yesterday, a great many who have hoped he will turn definitely, after reelection, toward one side or the other.

He cannot very well turn in both directions, there is much to support the belief of the rightists that he actually will become more conservative now that reelection is assured and the depression is lifting. There is other evidence that those near him believe he has in mind new ventures and new enterprises.

It is understandable that, during the campaign, he might not want to commit himself to specific measures. Now, however, the situation is changed. Almost every key policy of the administration—taxation, tariffs, relief, the budget—will come up automatically for congressional review during the next few months. He must take a position.

The alarming congressional opposition to some of the new deal policies, which has been one of the under-surface realities of recent months, also will find itself now in a somewhat changed position.

By custom, Mr. Roosevelt could not be a candidate again in 1940. Other groups within the party, which may have supported him as a matter of course heretofore without delay to capture the party leadership which supposedly will become vacant four years hence.

Thus the continuing high Democratic majorities on Capitol Hill may not mean exactly what they appear to mean. They may not mean smooth sailing for Mr. Roosevelt. Some of the strongest presidents, including Theodore Roosevelt and Woodrow Wilson, gradually lost control over congress after reelection.

ELECTION SLAYING BRINGS INQUEST
By The Associated Press
TRONTON, O., Nov. 4.—Coroner W. W. Lynd called an inquest today into the election night slaying of Bert McMahon, 30, Greasy Ridge resident who was shot to death in the crowded lobby of the Lawrence county courthouse.

Charles Roach, 45, was held in the county jail awaiting a murder charge which Deputy Sheriff K. F. Schweickart said probably would be filed against him today at conclusion of the inquest.

McMahon was a brother of Curtis McMahon, who gained fame as a member of the "Waterloo Wonders," state high school basketball champions of 1933 and 1934.

BLIND JURIST WINS PLACE ON BENCH
By The Associated Press
PORTSMOUTH, O., Nov. 4.—Roy J. Gillen, a blind jurist of Waterloo, won a place on the Fourth district appellate court bench at yesterday's election by defeating W. J. Jones of McArthur.

Gillen, a former state senator, now is common pleas court judge of Jackson county. He is a Republican.

BIRTHS
Mr. and Mrs. Alonso Granger of the Gracely pike are parents of a daughter born this morning at the City hospital.

Capable of a speed of 100 miles an hour, a train composed of glass enclosed cars has been installed by a German railway for the benefit of tourists traveling through the Alps.

CONGRESS POST WON BY ALESHIRE

Special to The Star

MARYSVILLE, O., Nov. 4.—Arthur W. Aleshire, a Coughlin-Townsend Democrat, defeated the Republican incumbent, L. T. Marshall, to the race for member of congress from the Seventh Ohio district, which includes Union county. Complete returns from the district were not available today, but Marshall carried his county 5,530 to 4,176 for Aleshire.

To Unmarried Women
 If you're getting close to 40 take stock of your face. Are you ruining your skin with powder mask (faced powder) in the nose? Is there a faint shadow of the wonderful new face powder that protects you from powder mask? Mello-Glo Skin Tonic is a lighter weight powder that stays on the surface of your skin. It never packs down into pores. Mello-Glo lets your pores breathe. Then your skin wakes up. Becomes clear, radiant, young. Ask for Mello-Glo about $1.50. GLO benefits are certified on back of the coin card.
